Founder & Managing Partner

PROFILE

Mr. Bittman is the founder and managing partner of BittmanLaw. [1] Mr. Bittman is a former federal prosecutor and “Big-Law” partner who over several decades has worked on many of the highest profile cases in the country. Mr. Bittman specializes in white collar criminal defense, litigation, government and internal investigations, congressional investigations, and corporate compliance.

Prior to founding BittmanLaw, Mr. Bittman was a senior lawyer for 25 years in the litigation departments of White & Case, LLP, Morgan Lewis & Bockius, LLP, and McGuireWoods, LLP, where he represented multinational corporations, boards of directors, and individuals navigating the complex web of laws and regulations and accompanying investigations by enforcement authorities that today’s global business community regularly confronts. Mr. Bittman has extensive experience with corporate investigations and enforcement matters, and frequently provides strategic counsel to corporations and individuals on managing the legal risks of operating in a global economy.

Mr. Bittman has significant experience representing corporations, boards, senior executives, government officials, and other individuals and entities in criminal and civil investigations throughout the United States, including matters before the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), the Department of Justice (DOJ), and the departments of State, Treasury and Commerce. Mr. Bittman offers particular experience related to complex frauds (securities fraud, mail and wire fraud, honest services fraud, defense contractor fraud, healthcare fraud), antitrust, public corruption, bribery (including the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA)), criminal tax matters, false statements / perjury, the False Claims Act, the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, international data privacy laws, campaign finance laws, money laundering, and import/export violations. In addition, Mr. Bittman conducts internal investigations on behalf of corporations and boards and advises on risk mitigation, including the development, evaluation, and implementation of effective compliance programs.

[1] BittmanLaw is the trade name of the Bittman Law Firm, PLLC.
